

DEDICATED IN LOVING MEMORY TO MR. PAUL D. KEARNAN

During your years as a teacher and vice principal at Bellingham, you came to be known as a caring and fair leader. You thoughtlessly gave so much of yourself to others, asking for nothing in return. Most importantly, you were a friend, not only to the students you laughed with, guided, and supported, but also to your fellow teachers with whom you spent years, working and growing together, side by side.

Our memories of your love for teaching will inspire us, and it is with great sadness and sincere appreciation of you, that we dedicate this book in your memory.

CHANGES

Prologue

... So there we were in September '89. The last class that would come to BHS in the 80's. But so what? What was going to make this class any different from every other class? What were we going to do that was so special? — But then again, who thought that 1990 would bring the fall of communism, preceded by the crumbling of the Berlin Wall? Who could have foreseen the peace talks that began in the Middle East in 1994? And when did anyone believe that former hippies would ever make it to the White House? Planet Earth of 1995 is much different from that of six years before, and we as a class have changed and grown right beside the rest of the world.

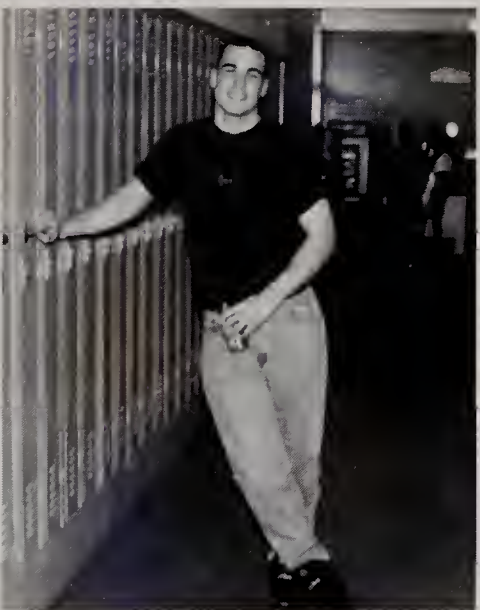

Right from the beginning it was obvious that we were the class not to be messed with. BHS appointed a new vice principal the year that we came up. The year after that, (Apparently stunned by our unmatched brilliance), the school allowed us to take Algebra I in the 8th grade if we chose. By the time the College Board realized who we were, they changed the PSAT's and then the SAT's for us. And what other class went through four years at BHS without winning one bulletin board contest during spirit week? — (This is obviously due to the school's fear of giving us too much power, for everything else was already dominated by the mighty 95ers!)

This year the town of Bellingham was even kind enough to fix up our football field, allowing the all powerful seniors on the football and soccer teams to take their strength abroad, setting an example for all other classes to follow.

Our point is, that a lot has gone on in six years. But this was the BIG YEAR! And what happened was ... well, just turn the page.

SENIORS

Changes

Phew . . . Thank goodness for that process of changing. Imagine the depletion of the ozone if certain guys maintained their usage of hairspray to uphold their feathers and spikes. I'm also willing to bet, that there are quite a few happy feet out there, now that the "double sock" fashion for girls has gone out of style. And our faces are much cleaner since we ditched that extra purple, blue and pink eye make-up.

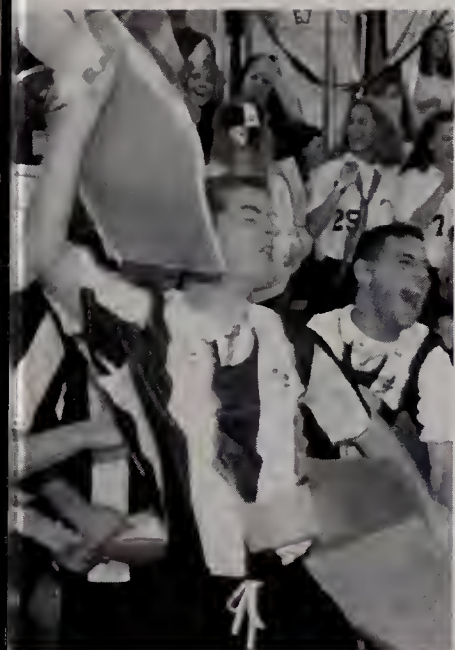

Well, it took a few years, but we changed. And, "Change is good!" Of course, these are only physical changes. We've grown and evolved as a class in another way. Take this year for example, after finally reaching our destination of senior year, we were eager to take on our responsibilities as the new leaders at BHS. As a result, our attitudes, relationships, and in some cases, our goals changed. We showed "no fear" in voicing our opinion on the hat policy, despite rejection. The students we once picked on, were now protected by the common bond of being a senior. Strangers became friends, and old friends became closer as we journeyed through our last year together. And the times we spent together were savored, as they would soon become memories. As you can see, lots of things have changed over the past six years, and they're destined to change again in the future!

BHS

BHS SPIRIT

Hawk spirit soared high this year! Students enjoyed an exciting and successful Sprit Week in the Fall, dressing in PJ's, Beach attire, clothes from the past, black and white and different colors for each grade. Seniors easily won this Spirit competition, despite yet another loss in the bulletin board contest. The week ended with an eventful pep rally, in which we united together to encourage our Fall teams. But our signs of school spirit did not end there. Hawk fans could easily be spotted at numerous sporting events cheering on our teams!

Friends

Friends

Throughout our years at BHS, we have formed many friendships. Through those friendships, not only have the bonds of trust and caring been formed, but also, memories have been created. These memories will always be with us, from the lunch room, to the lockers, and even to graduation.

Hunt For A Hawk

Unfortunately, our traditional Hawk suit was misplaced this year. Thus, we were forced to celebrate our pep rally and football games minus our spirited mascot. While we managed to carry on with an imitation hawk at our pep rally, the yearbook staff has taken it upon ourselves to find our custom made hawk. Let the hunt for the Hawk begin.

Nice try James, but you're not the real Hawk!

"I'll give you a hand in the search!"

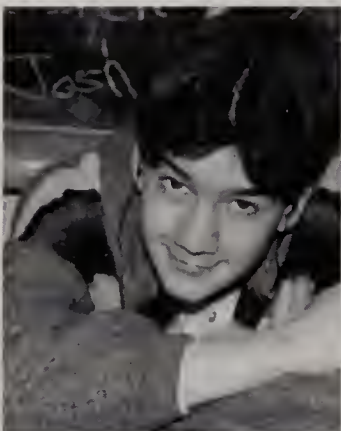

"There's a ransom note on my towel."

"Heather took it." "No sir, she did!"

"Do I look like I've sen a hawk?"

"This time, it wasn't me."

"No hawk, but I got a fish."

"Gyeah! We've seen it. And you want us to . . .?"

"Here's a hint: Cheever!"

"What's in the bag, Mr. Cheever?"

"Sorry, we're too busy stacking cans!"

"BEN JAMMIN!!!"

"We're working on an alarm system and tracking device. Talk to Jim."

"Um . . . Joe, What do we do now?"

"I will strangle it out of Jakob!"

"Kristen, we already tried that!"

"I'm tired of looking for a Hawk!"

Students At Work

Afterschool Jobs

Life did not stop for these students when the tone sounded at 2 o'clock. These ambitious students held various afterschool jobs ranging from sandwich shops to selling plants. All to earn some extra dough. While some students saved their earnings for future investments, others lived day to day buying gasoline, food, and clothes.

Yearbook

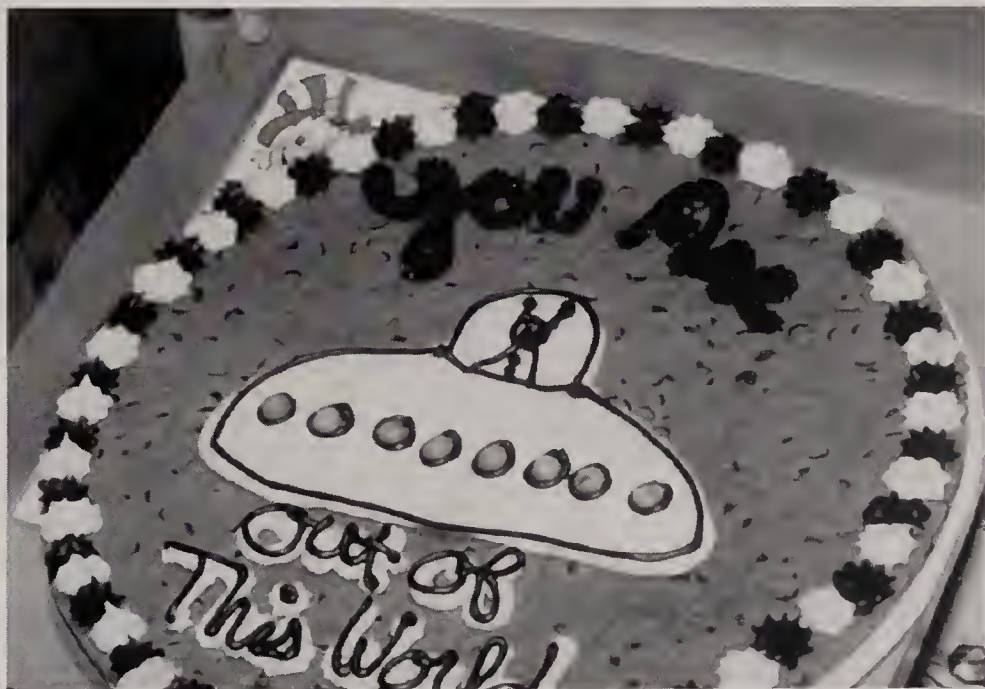

These are the folks that did it all. This year's yearbook staff and editors held various fundraisers, ranging from car washes to selling wrapping paper. After the money was finally raised, the real "fun" work began. As editors designed the appearance of this collection of memories, sparks of energy and creativity could often be seen, flashing from the blackhole of Mrs. Flanagan's office.

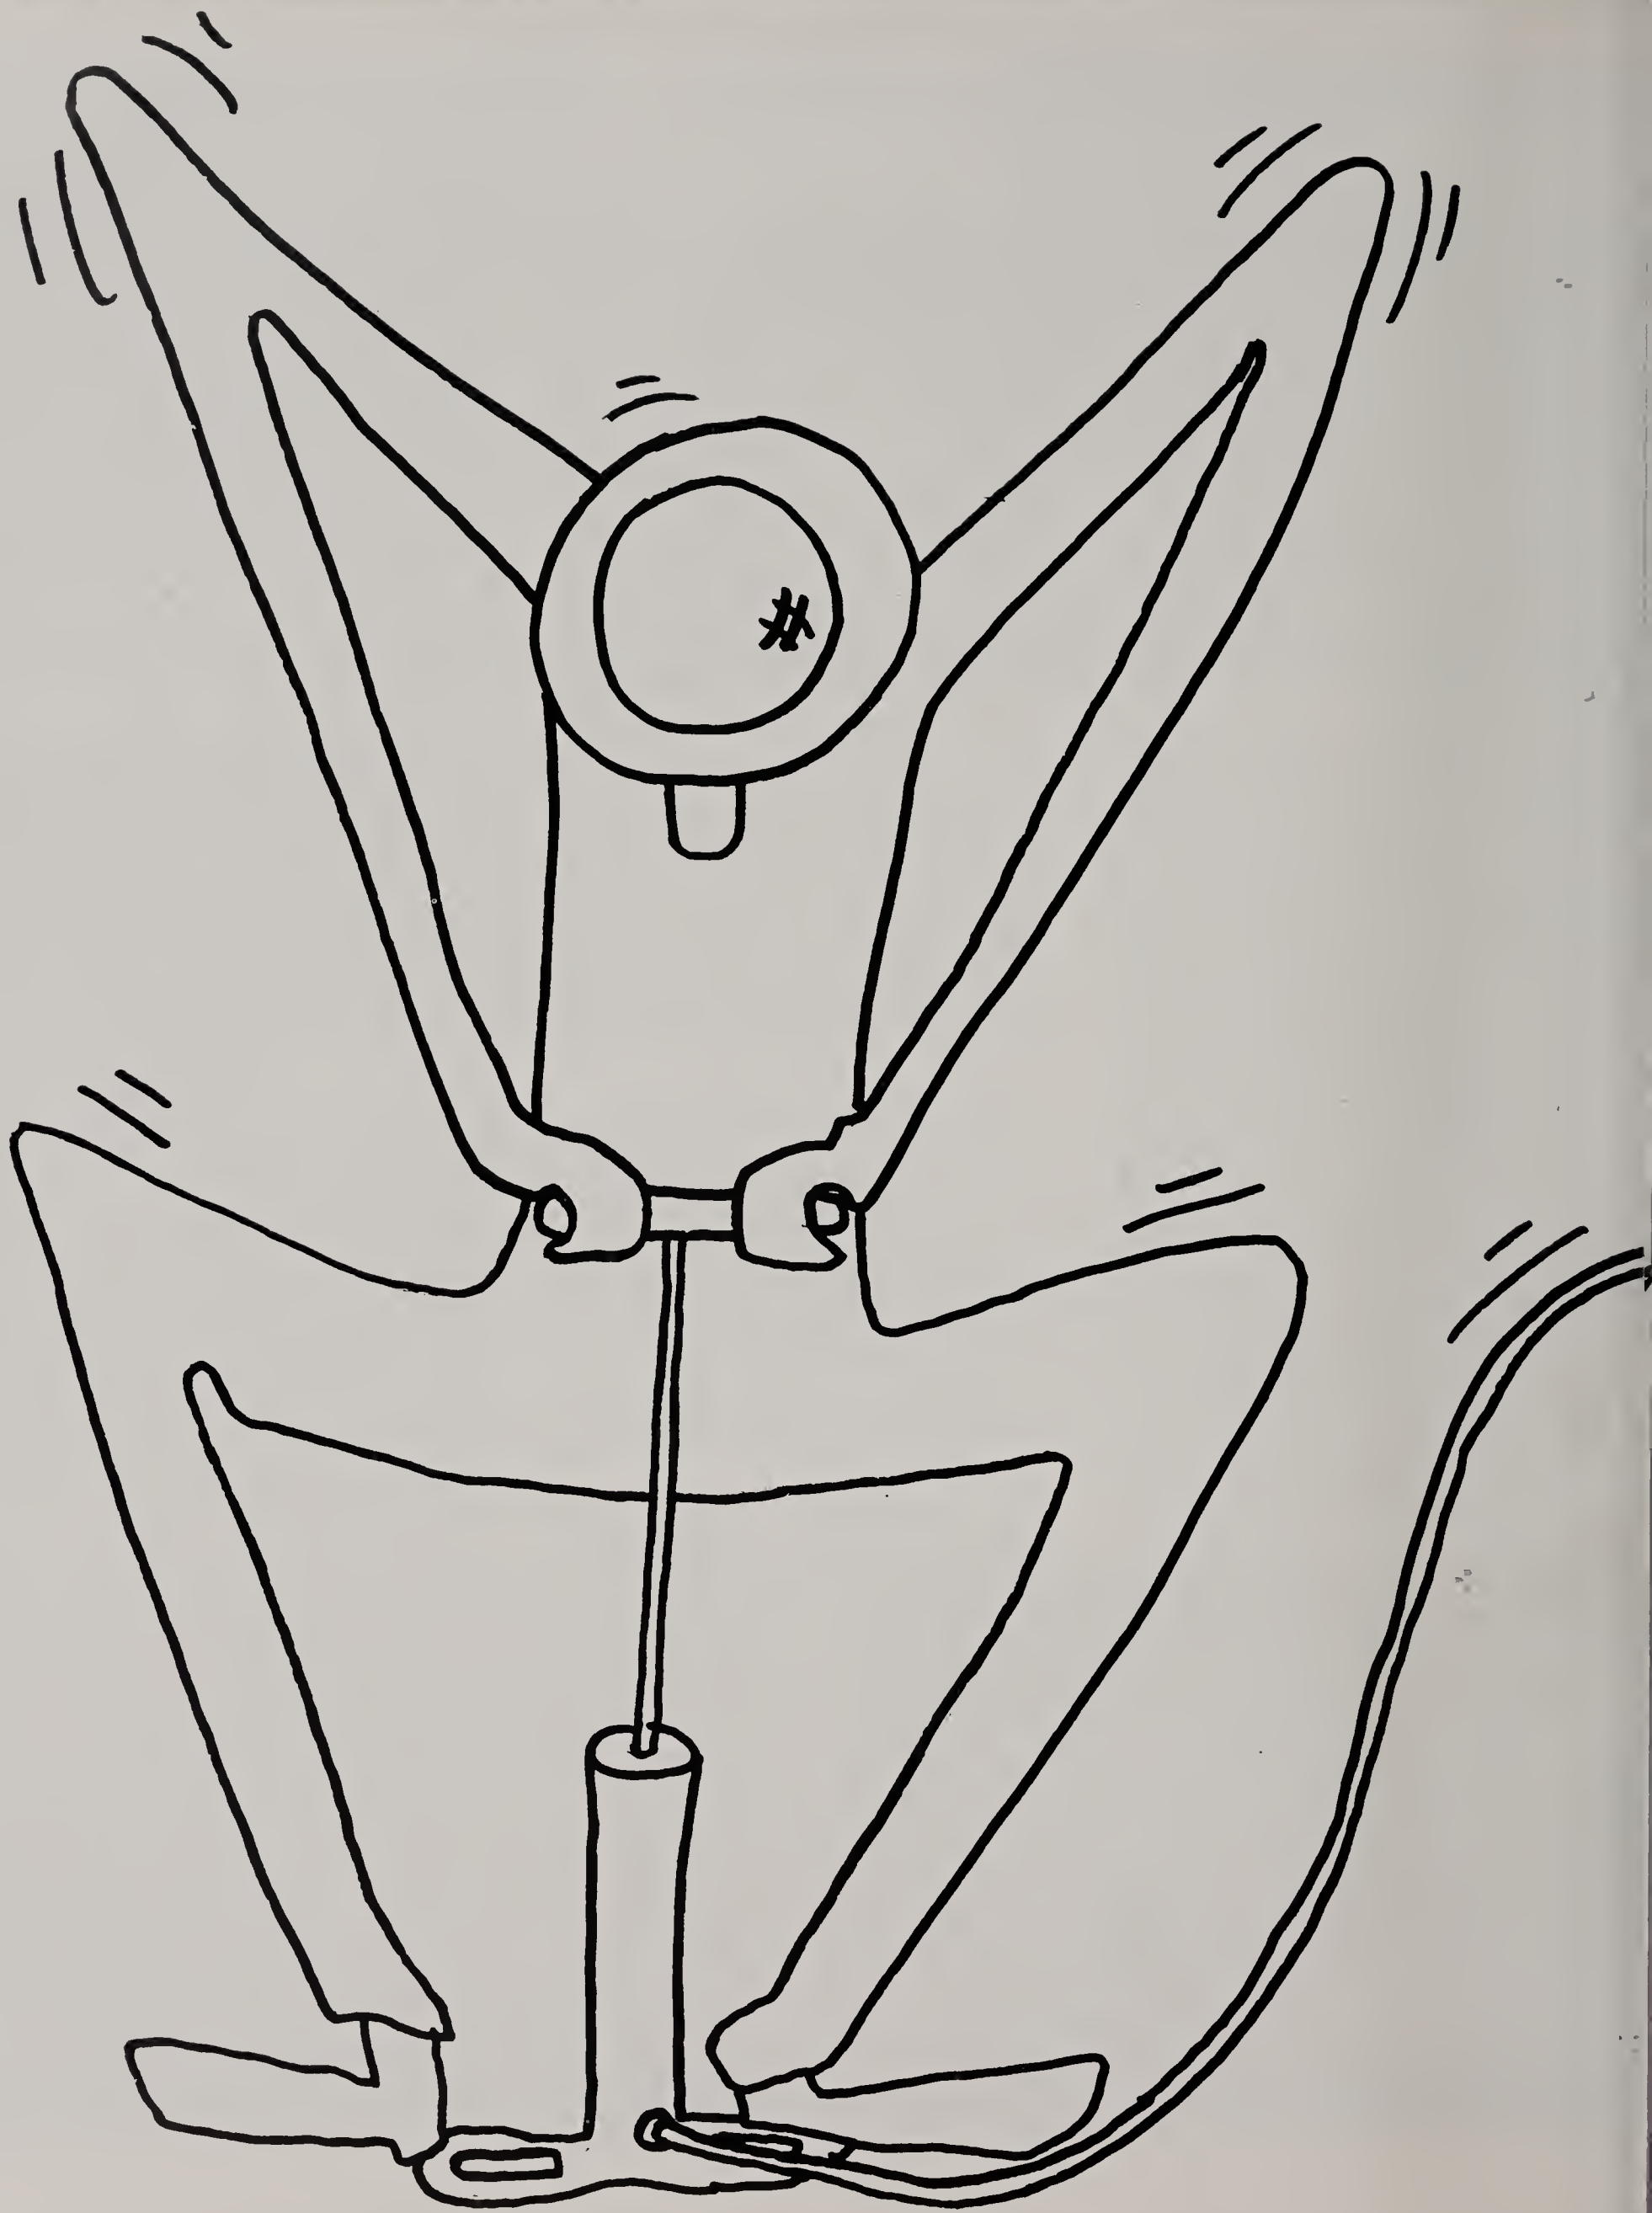

ODE TO Mrs. Flanagan

For the past twenty years, Mrs. Flanagan has served as the key Yearbook Advisor. As you can see, we may have driven her a little bit crazy (perhaps insane). However, she was always able to face important issues seriously. In working with Mrs. Flanagan, we've all become friends and will miss your Yearbook advice next year. We truly appreciate all of your hard work and dedication. And we just wanted to let you know that "You are out of this World!"

The life of a school depends on the energy of its students. Over the past few years, and especially this year, BHS has been the storehouse of a unique sense of unity, pride, and camaraderie, like never before. The extra-curricular organizations here have had tremendous success under recent leadership, especially that of the 95ers. Even those of us who chose not to get involved in school activities contributed equally with away-from-school endeavors, and this added to the diversity of our class. We are capable of doing anything, and one need only look at our accomplishments thus far to realize that. STUDENT LIFE.

The peer counselor's of the class of '95 found themselves very busy this year. Their duties included providing college information, assisting in the personal problems of other BHS students and conducting orientations for next year's 7th graders, the class of 2001.

The audio-visual aides are the men who do it all. They transport, fix and operate the school's audio-visual equipment, and all this from an office about six square feet in size. A.V. will be greatly reduced in its membership next year, however, as it is losing several highly trained, highly experienced members with the class of 1995, and Mr. Kowalczyk will struggle next year to replace these outstanding individuals.

Cable Club

This year's cable club was made up of nearly all younger members. It is for this reason that this year's goal was, in a word: TRAIN! That's right, the club spent its time training the newer members for next year, when the main project will be "production."

Future Problem Solvers

This was the second year that Mr. Christie coached the school's best minds, on the team known as: THE FUTURE PROBLEM SOLVERS! The group consisted of two varsity level teams who competed in two practice rounds, followed by a regional competition. In the latter of the contests, the BHS teams placed 4th and 5th, two respectable positions considering the number of competitors. Next year's team will have the advantage of seven returning problem solvers, and BHS looks forward to that!

DECA III

Shanon Muir, Ryan Creasia, Joseph Clinton, Kris DiMarco, Heather Macleod

Bellingham's Distributive Education Club of America is made up of students in Deca levels I, II and III. The store from which they sell candy, notebooks, cards, and other goods to BHSers found the '94-'95 school year to be one of booming business. The club this year sent its most experienced members to compete at district, state and national levels with much success.

Row 3: Jamie Thompson, Jennifer Fortin, Jennifer Cushman, Lauren Cifizzari, Shannon Werner, Alexandra Carlson, Janis Mackey. Row 4: Patrick Furham, Rachel Bloch, Brian Drake, Benjamin Bishop, Andrea Fournier, Lisa Newton, Corrine Anderson, Beth Gianusso.

The Mock Trial Team this year consisted only of six returning seniors, and was therefore a basically young and inexperienced team. However, since many of the younger lawyers and witnesses turned out to be "naturals," the team won all of its preliminary rounds, but fell in the first round of quarter finals. With excellent practice this year, next years veteran "masters of the courtroom" should go all the way to the Supreme Court.

The busy assistants to Mrs. Langenburg found their work in the form of filing, putting books away, and other tasks. Their often thankless job is actually much appreciated by the users of the school's library.

National Honor Society

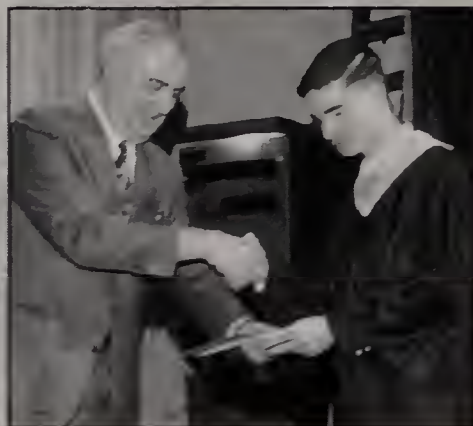

The National Honor Society did much to serve the community around us this year. Volunteer projects included yardwork, and other activities. The honorable bunch took a break in May, and spent a weekend camping and white water rafting.

Newspaper

The "Eye of the Hawk," under the direction of Mrs. Kilburn, took a new approach as a literary paper this year. The paper was printed with a lot of "impulse" involvement, and added with much eccentricity, the paper was a true original. The future of "The Eye" looks bright, with several young writers climbing up the ranks.

This year's ski club was led by Mr. David Bilotta, who made great efforts to take a trip with ten 95ers to Italy, for a crazy week of skiing. Due to the lack of individual funds, though, the trip never happened. The club was still able to enjoy day trips to Loon and Okemo Mountains, and an unforgettable weekend adventure at Sunday River.

The musicians of BHS include the high school band, the pep band, the chorus, the color guard, and the 7th and 8th grade bands. With no home football games this year, the pep band took their talents to three away games, where they played their support for the Hawks. This year's musical highlights included the Christmas Concerts, the popular annual Pops Night, and two parades. The band also participated in the District Music Festival, and then sent sophomore Stacy Reckert to All-State competition. The BHS musicians have also been busy raising funds for next year's trip to Orlando, where the promising performers will represent a very proud BHS.

Officers

Bellingham High's finest actors and actresses came together this year under the leadership of a new advisor, who exposed them to acting workshops and other activities that were extremely beneficial to the improvement of their acting capabilities. The drama club put on a farce in the spring entitled "Horror High." — (A hilarious production!)

The Student Council this year found itself extremely busy. They began with an exciting and successful spirit week (with the 95ers victorious) that allowed for two $500 scholarships to be given. This was followed by such events as a racism workshop, the school's first recycling program, the beautification of the front of the school (thanks to Wal-Mart!), and several other endeavors. All in all it was a very successful year for the school's governing body of students.

The Jr. High Student Council was extremely helpful in this year's Thanksgiving and Christmas drives. Their active role in these as well as other endeavors promise an outstanding high school student council at the beginning of the 21st century.

Student Government Day

On April 7, two of our students visited the State House in Boston, to participate in the annual Student Government Day. The "law makers" took part in a mock session of the state's legislature, debating and voting on such present day issues as condom distribution in the schools, and smoking in public places. The day was a memorable one, as it provided the Bellinghamers with an opportunity to witness what actually take place in government.

School Council

Debra Goodman, Amy Phillips

The school council is made up of students, teachers, parents, and administrators, and this was its first year of operation. Its purpose is to collectively come up with ideas to improve the school system. This council will surely become an important tool in structuring school policy in the future.

SAC to the School Committee

Our representatives to the school committee were busy this year voicing the opinions of the entire student body. Their job is to give ideas to the school committee, and they have one member who is allowed to vote on every school committee issue.

SAC to the State

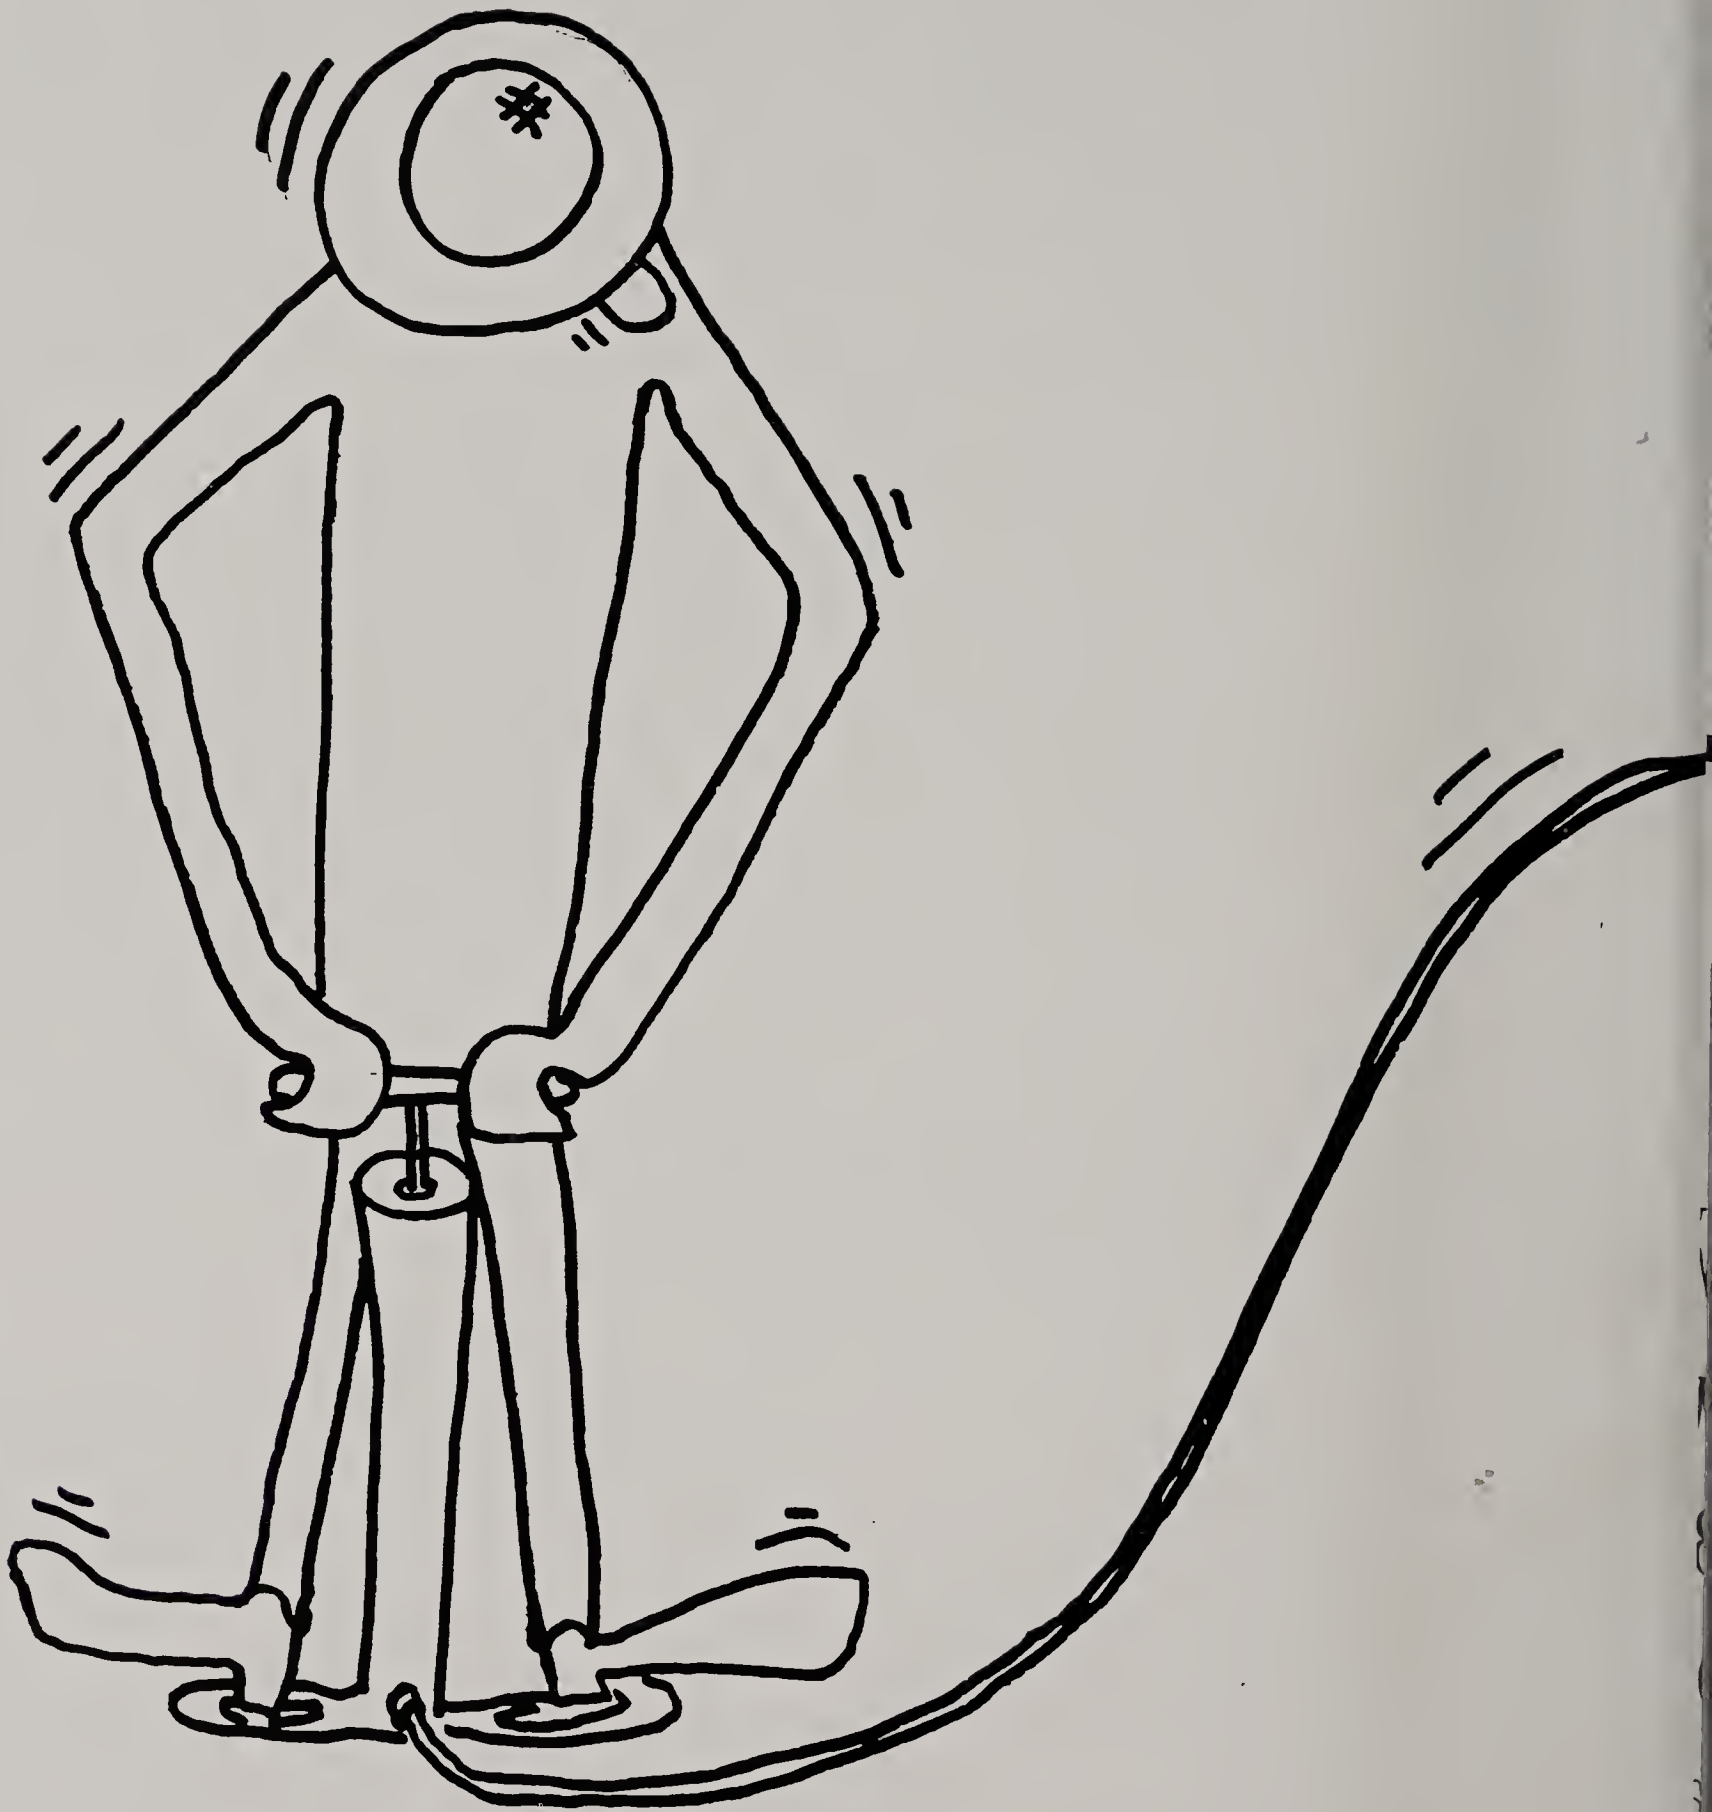

The Regional Student Advisory Council meets several times a year to discuss problems and issues that concern high school students. They in turn elect members to the State S.A.C., who presents these ideas to the State Board of Education, and they have one voting member on that board. The BHS representatives were very active this year, bringing back activities concerning certain important issues to the BHS students.

When we weren't busy learning, we were playing. As members of the elite Blackhawk force for 6 years, we have experienced our share of victory and defeat, cheers and jeers, laughter and tears. But one thing that has never changed is our sense of unity, pride, and sportsmanship, Blackhawk style. Though some of us never joined a BHS team, it can be reasonably said that the spirit of the Hawk has run through us at one time or another. SPORTS

FOOTBALL

The Blackhawks football team had a good year finishing 6-4. They beat King Phillip, Dover Sherborn, Holliston, Medfield, Ludenburg, and Medway. The Seniors and Juniors both played well with the company of some younger faces.

This year's cross country team was led by its only senior and captain, Dave Dalpe. Although Dave suffered an injury during mid season, the young team went on to finish 4-4 in the TVL. With the return of Coach Cournoyer, and next year's return of several strong runners, the team's future looks bright.

VOLLEYBALL

The girls volleyball team enjoyed a successful and thrilling season. In fact, they finished the regular season in second place in the TVL, with a record of 14-6. In tournament, they spiked their way to the semi-finals before losing to rival, Medway, in a close battle. Senior Shanon Muir earned TVL All Star status, while senior Casey Lariviere earned an Honorable Mention. With many key underclassmen returning, the Hawks expect to improve next season, and hopefully beat Medway. However, the team will surely miss the outstanding play of Shanon Muir, Casey Lariviere, Tanika Hurtt, and Captains Amy Phillips and Kristen Vella.

FIELD HOCKEY

This year's Field Hockey team had yet another outstanding season. With the phenomenal play of Seniors Krista, Dawn, Lisa, Megan, and Tracy, the Hawks advanced to the South Sectional Semifinals. They were defeated in a 2 to 1 heartbreaker in Harwich. TVL All-Stars included Lisa, Val, and Honorable Mention Tracy. Lisa Motroni also received TVL MVP honors. The Lady Hawks were captained by seniors Lisa and Dawn. Next year's team also looks promising, with the return of star goalie Jackie Pizzi, and rising stars from the J.V. team.

This year's Soccer team enjoyed much success behind the leadership of senior veterans Sam, Joe, Jay, Kris, Eric, Ben, Chris, Jack, and Josh. The 8-8-2 squad became the first Bellingham Soccer team in history to qualify for the Massachusetts South Sectional State Tournament. Particularly exciting was the team's finish, when they won their final 3 games, including a win over previously unbeaten Holliston, to qualify for the tourney. The team lost, however, in the first round to Old Rochester, despite a near-goal by Brian Drake. Coach Suff looks to Drake, Ruiz, Arel, and Frappier to lead the team next year.

BASKETBALL

The Varsity Basketball team had an incredible season, finishing 15-5. The team finally lived up to its high expectations by winning the TVL crown along with Dover-Sherborn. The team was led by Co-Captains Matt Byron, and Keion Jackson. The Hawks will continue their winning ways but will miss seniors Matt B., Matt G., Steve, and Keion.

7TH AND 8TH GRADE

7th and 8th Grade Basketball is the first stage in a four level program. Many kids entering at this level have little or no prior experience and this is a great learning experience as well as a transition period. However, under the leadership of a great coach, Mr. Chiappone, the boys had a great time and hopefully learned a lot.

1995 was a year for great successes. The first occurred when Keion Jackson reached the 1000 pt. milestone and then continued his great playing by leading the Hawks to an outstanding season in which they captured the TVL crown. Keion became the seventh person in the history of BHS to score 1000 pts. The 1000th point came in the game against Franklin at the free throw line. In addition, Keion was named MVP for the TVL and also named a 1st Team All Star for The Woonsocket Call, The Middlesex News, and The Milford Daily News. When asked, Mr. Anderson, Athletic Director for BHS, told us, "What impressed me most about Keion was his attitude toward the game. He was self-disciplined on the court, he was poised and he was a leader."

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The 3-17 Hawks were in a bit of a transition year. Led by 1st year Coach Mike Pizzi, and his tri-captains, Megan Caci, Tanika Hurtt, and Tracy Jennings, the girls worked long and hard throughout the season. Senior all-stars Tanika Hurtt and Megan Caci will be missed, as will senior Tracy Jennings, recipient of a local Sportsmanship Award. The abundance of returning underclassmen will soften the blow of the departing seniors though, and will bring a new winning spirit to the team.

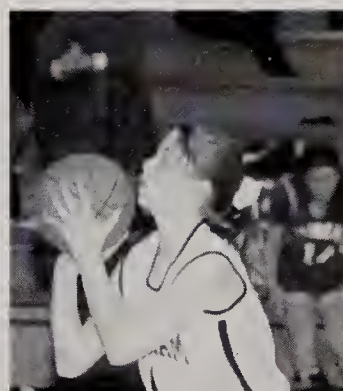

J.V. BASKETBALL

ICE HOCKEY

The Ice Hockey Team skated their way to an impressive and memorable season. Despite the fierce competition of the TVL, the Hawks managed to make progress this season led by the outstanding play of All Stars Brian Martin, Matt Crawford, Mark King and Mike Bournazian. With many young and steadily improving players, the Hawks are looking to come back strong next season. However, they will be losing the consistent play of veterans Mark King, Ben Bishop and Jim Goodrich!

The 1995 Winter Track Team has started to come around, and this season they held their own. For the first time this year there was a continuity in the coaching of the Fall, Winter and Spring Track teams which will certainly prove to be beneficial in the progress of the Track and Field members. There has been a great increase in the interest in the sport this past year, the team is growing, and there is a lot of young individual talent which will certainly show in the years to come.

Despite the young talent, the players gained a great deal of experience under the direction of a new head coach, Mr. Chiappone, while establishing a positive outlook for next season. The team will miss the leadership of this year's seniors, Jason, Steve, Kris, and Jake, but will be back next year as contenders.

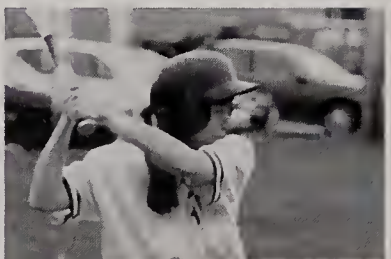

J.V. BASEBALL

Although they did not make the TVL tournament the Varsity Softball Team did have their high points of the season, like their impressive game played against Ashland. The Lady Hawks had a record of 6-12 and in spite of the loss of their three seniors will hopefully continue to improve next year.

J.V. SOFTBALL

BOYS TRACK

The boy's track team had one of their best seasons ever, posting a 9-1 record. Sparked by the All Star play of Chris Benjamin, Joshua Trites, Joe Bengiovanni, Mike Marchand, and Jack Mahoney, the Hawks fell one win shy of the TVL crown. As the boys hope to contend again next year, they will miss the athletic ability of Jeremy Bernard, Josh Trites, James Kane, Jack Mahoney, Russ Watson, David Dalpe, Joe Bengiovanni, and Samuel Eli Cowell.

GIRLS TRACK

The girl's track team remained competitive in the powerful TVL, posting a 3-5 record. The team was led by the All Star play of Shanon Muir in the 100 and 200 yard dashes, Lisa Motroni in the javelin, and Amy Heenan in the hurdle competitions. With many young and talented up and coming stars, the Lady Hawks hope to improve next season. The team wishes the graduating seniors: Casey Lariviere, Shanon Muir, and Lisa Motroni much success in their futures!

A four year starter for the Varsity Soccer and Spring Track teams, Sam has earned honors in both academics and athletics. As a two year captain in soccer, he was named to the TVL All-Star team his junior and senior years, and to the Eastern Massachusetts All-Star team his senior year. He also received All-Star status for two years from the Woonsocket Call and one year from the Milford Daily News. Over his five goals and five assists as a defender, Sam places the first ever State Tournament qualification as his career highlight. Sam was also on the Winter and Spring Track teams, for which he ran the 330 low hurdles and the opening leg of the 4x440 relay team. Qualifying for the State Class Meet in his senior year, Sam helped the Hawks to their second place finish in the TVL.

Academically, his achievements include ranking third in his class, induction into the National Honor Society, and receiving medals in French, Social Studies and English. Next year, Samuel Eli will attend the University of Kansas, where he plans to major in History and hopefully play soccer. We wish Sam well and hope that the blue blazer matches the ruby slippers!!!

ATHLETE S

H A N O N M U I R

Throughout her high school career, Shanon has set high standards for herself both academically and athletically. She has been a member of the Spring Track team for four years, and has received All Star recognition in both the 100 and 200 yd. dashes. Shanon was also a member of the Winter Track team during her junior and senior years, in which she easily dominated her sprinting events. As Shanon aims to be well rounded, she also dabbled in basketball during her Freshman and Sophomore years, for which she showed promise as a small forward. In the Fall, she played volleyball, sophomore through senior year. In this sport, Shanon was well known for ability to block with the best of them, and was even named to the TVL and Milford Daily News All Star teams her senior year.

Shanon has always challenged herself academically in high school. In her junior year, she was inducted into the National Honor Society. In her senior year, she served as President, organizing this elite group of intellectuals. Most notably, Shanon has participated in the DECA program for the past four years. In DECA competitions, Shanon always received honors, qualifying for National competitions in St. Louis and Detroit. This past year, she placed in the top ten in her National competition. Next year, Shanon plans to attend the University of Michigan. We wish her the best of luck and hope she doesn't forget us!

SPORTS

I think I can. I think I can.

Look into the crystal ball.

Pig pile on Shanon!

My impression of a flamingo.

What are you guys doing later?

I'm so happy, I do the dance of joy!

What's that dance step again, Keion?

You want me, don't you?

A flamingo?!?

And now, "Swan Lake."

Spain's famous, "Running of the Bulls."

That's nothing. I can do it too.

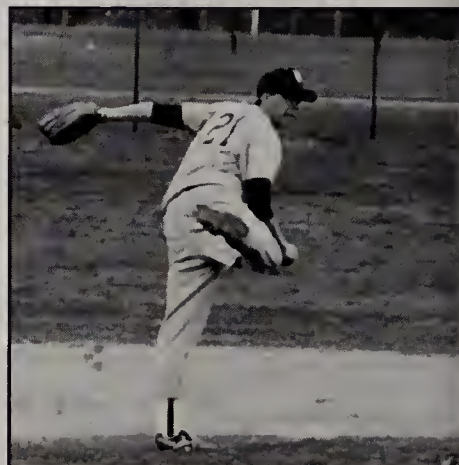

"I kissed a girl."

Did I put on my deodorant?

Aw, c'mon ref. What are ya blind?

Hey, I can do a flamingo too. Sort of.

FOLLIES

Don't hurt me!

Bottom's up!

Hey you. Your mother wears army boots.

Talk about a bad hair day.

One of these things is not like the other.

Are you talking to me?

I'm tired. Let's take a break.

Head, Shoulders, Knees, and Toes.

One down, four to go.

Yet another track star swallowed by the pit of despair.

Look out!

Has anyone seen my contact lens?

Don't hate me because I'm beautiful.

Five bucks says they'll blow it in the 4th quarter.

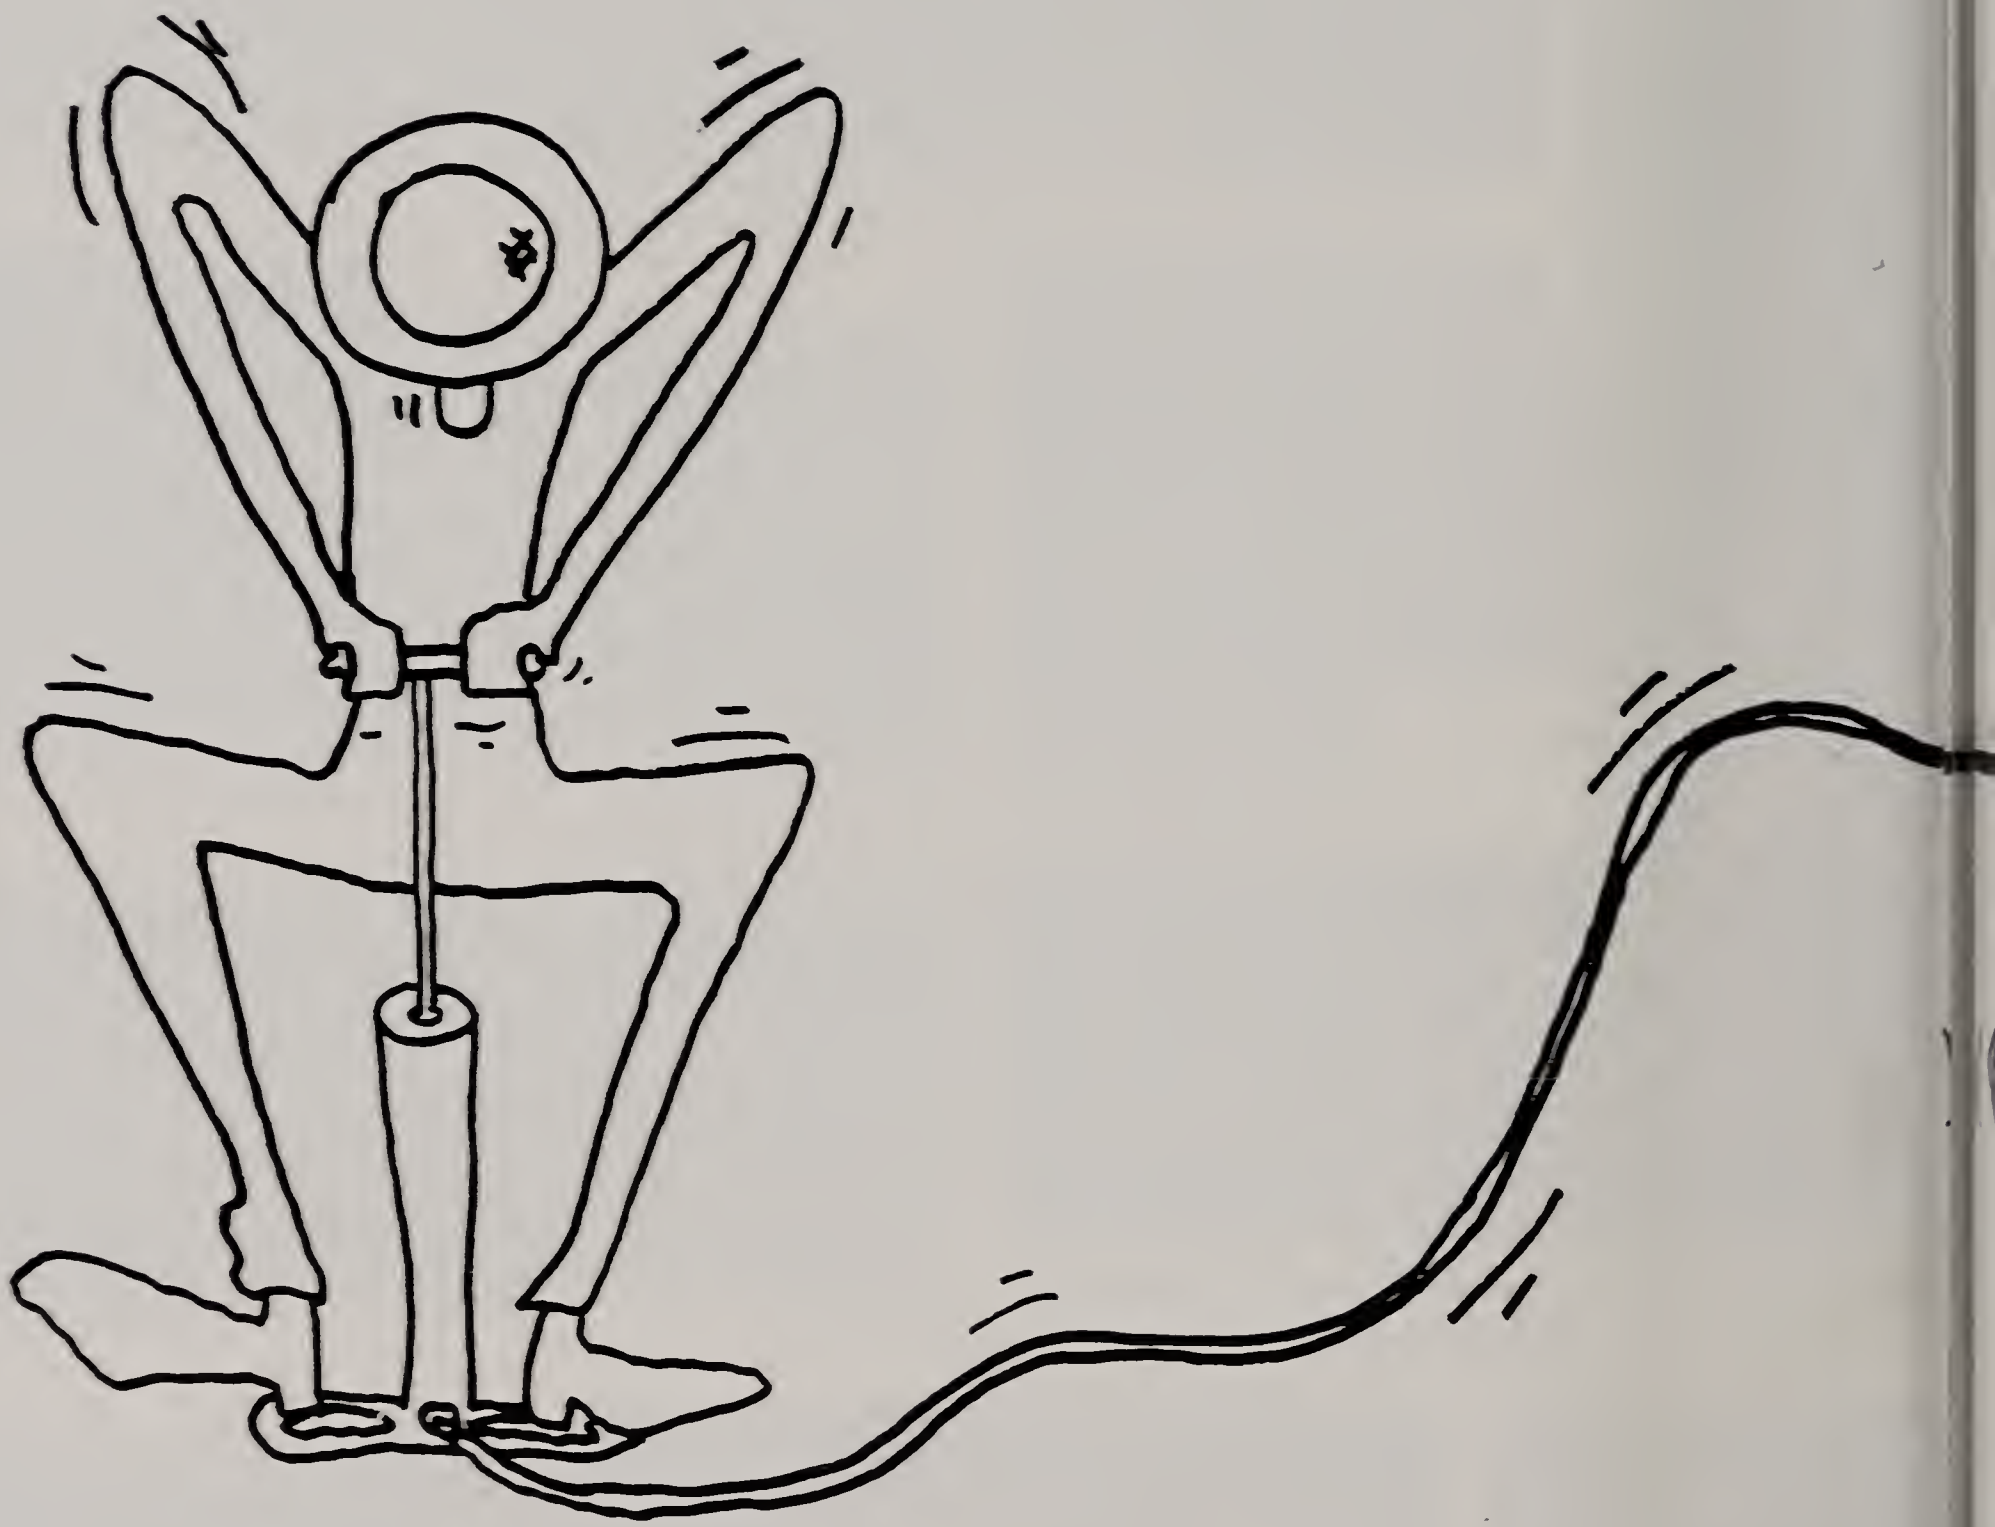

What is that white square doing there?

Get your butt out of my face!

Where is Jake when we need him?

Over the past six years the faces of BHS' faculty have changed considerably, and will continue to do so over the years. Old or young, though, each member of the faculty has shared with us their most valuable asset: KNOWLEDGE. And for this, they will never be forgotten.

Mr. Beaulieu

"Great teacher. Explains things well. Good natured. Never gets mad. Never yells. Controls the class by discussing interesting topics. Keeps the kids interested in the subject."

"Explains things very well. He gave everyone a fair chance in everything. You could tell he really loves what he teaches."

"Very kind, very gentle, very compassionate. Soft spoken. 'Teddy Bear.'"

"One day Mr. Beaulieu will be a famous photographer displaying his portfolio of class pig dissections throughout the world. He's a great teacher and he has inspired me to pursue a career in medicine."

"I have always been amazed at his ability to hum a classical song from beginning to end."

Mr. Tardif

"He gets the job done, without letting a class goof off."

"Mr. Tardif understands the kids as he knows it's hard to teach on a Monday morning or Friday afternoon. Despite this, he does try to joke with us."

"Good teacher. Knows his stuff."

"Very fair person. Good sport about everything."

"From day one Mr. Tardif had his running shoes on and by the end of the year we were all catching our breath trying to keep up with him."

"Mr. Tardif is a rare earth element."

Quotes by Mr. Tardif:

"You decide whether you'll follow me or you'll fall by the wayside."

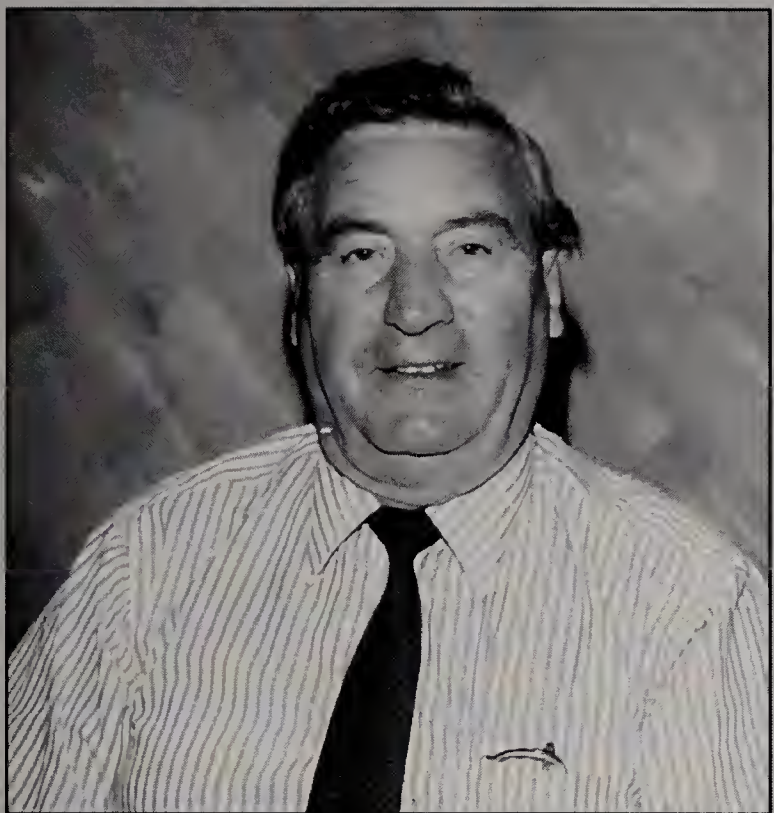

"Some have remained constant through the year while others have been practicing the Olympic Swan dive."

"Wake up you sleepy heads!"

"You're all a bunch of Whippersnappers."

"Yooo Hooo!"

THANKS FOR

Mr. Ciavarini

Mrs. Valorie

"He had an unbelievable zest for life."

"He appreciates every day of life and lives each day as if it were his last."

"This place has been very serious since 'Mr. Ciav.' retired."

"He often said, 'Could you just watch my class?' and he never returned."

"Could be very funny!"

"He loved kids, always a smile."

"She has taught me more about different cultures and art than any other teacher. She sparked my interest in European cultures."

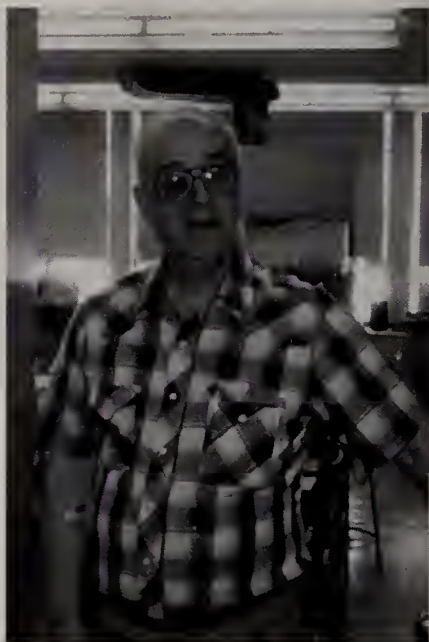

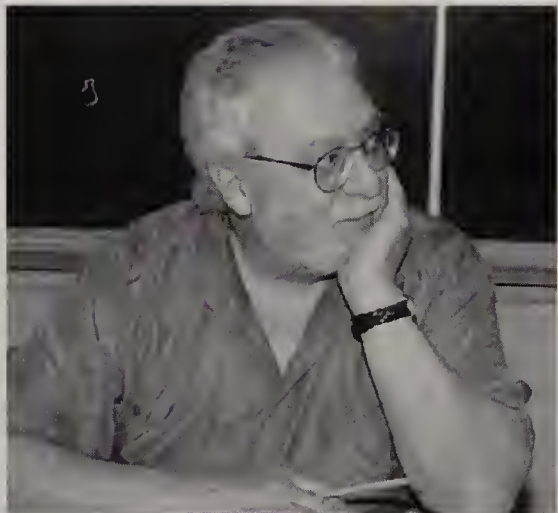

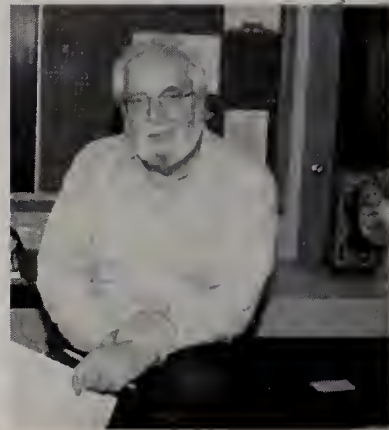

"Nice teacher. You learn a lot having Mrs. V., about the culture of France along with the language itself. She taught more than just the language of France. She also taught us about the style of French architecture and artistry."

"After all these years, she still has the energy to do graduation. Gets along with everybody. She will make a terrific grandma."

"She was always available to answer questions, offer suggestions, and assist with the many tasks involving the language department."

Why Can't This Night Go On Forever

SENIOR

...and then you wake up one day, and you're a

Unbelievable!!! So what happened during our senior year? Just who were those mighty 95ers and how did they spend their last year at BHS?

Class History

Over the past six years the students of the Class of 1995 have grown up together; our most important memories stemming from the relationships we have formed.

In 1989, the Class of '95 began their first year at the High School. With time the intimidations, fears, and unknowns of the High School dissolved as the students from Keough, Stallbrook and Macy schools began to intermingle their clique.

The Class of '95 started their freshman year in 1991 under the guidance of Mrs. D'Alfonso as our sole Class Advisor. Our class selected Kristen Vella as President, Dave Dalpe as Vice-President, Sam Cowell as Treasurer and Eric Luciani as Secretary to lead us through our first year in high school. Our freshman year was highlighted by the Semi-Formal on May 1st in which we decorated the High School Cafeteria in the colors silver, pink and mint green. The theme song was Vanessa Williams' "Save the Best for Last," although the song was never played. On May 19, 1992, the entire school bonded together in a successful walkout in order to show student support to cease the extensive teacher cuts.

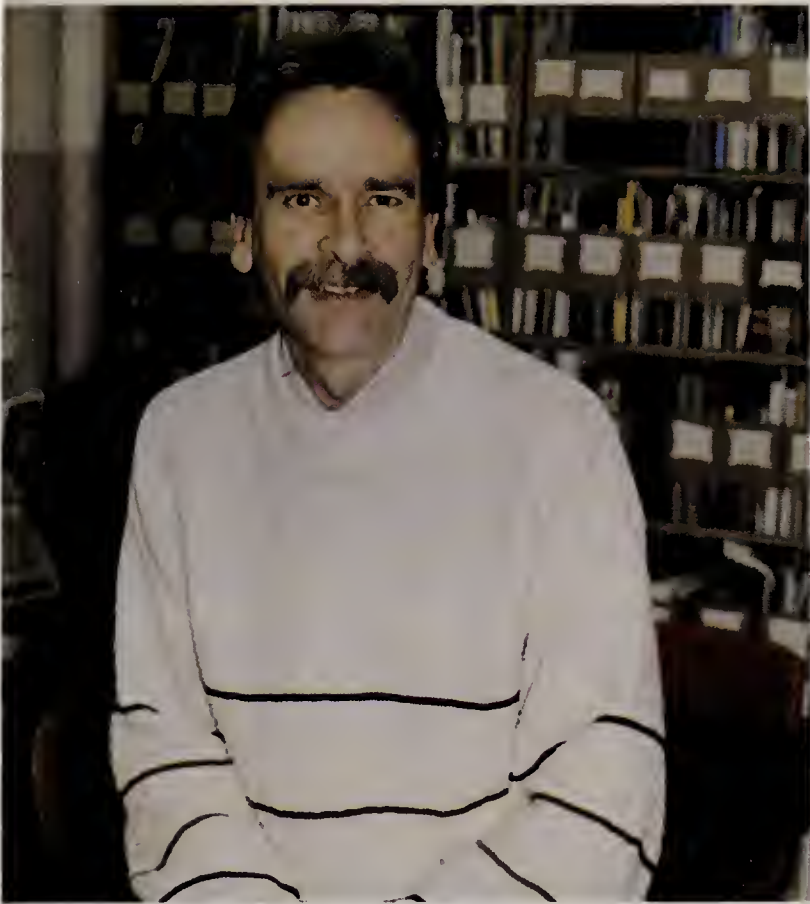

As we entered our sophomore year Mr. Dalpe joined Mrs. D'Alfonso as our class advisor. Kristen Vella, Dave Dalpe and Sam Cowell remained in office and Heather Varney became our new Secretary. On April 3, 1993 we held our Ring Dance in the Gym with the theme song "In the Still of the Night." Thanks to the skill of Aaron Trudeau the Gym was beautifully decorated in the colors red, silver and black. Our first court consisted of Mike Bachman and Becky Gelinas as King and Queen. The princesses were Kristen Vella, Tanika Hurtt and Heather Varney and the princes were Kris DiMarco, Ralph Perez and Keion Jackson. In the spring of our sophomore year the Varsity Baseball team clinched the TVL title.

Our Junior year was off to a great start with Kristen Vella and Dave Dalpe remaining President and Vice-President and Tanika Hurtt and Krista Cialdea taking office as our new Secretary and Treasurer. Our first Jr./Sr. Christmas Party was held on December 21st at Savini's Restaurant in Woonsocket. The Christmas Party was a great success, as we all crowded around the dance floor to watch Chris Donato do his thing. Later we moved the party back to Tanika Hurtt's house. On April 29th the excitement of our Junior year rose as we attended our first Jr./Sr. Prom at the Omni Biltmore in Providence. As we all slowly traveled up the glass elevator to the top floor we could hear our theme song, "Hold on to the Night" playing. The chosen court was King — Matt Gulino, Queen — Tanika Hurtt; princes — Mike DiRamo, Keion Jackson, James Kane, and Jeremy Bernard and princesses — Sarah Doody, Megan Caci, Jamie Monroe, and Kristen Vella. Our outstanding Junior year was accented by a Super Bowl win and another Baseball TVL title.

With our Senior year fast approaching Matt Byron was elected our new President, Dave Dalpe remained as Vice-President, Jakob White became treasurer and Debra Goodman became our new Secretary. As homecoming approached we chose Sarah Doody and Jeremy Bernard as our homecoming Queen and King and Jacki Pizzi and Brian Cronin as our Class Marshalls. On December 21st, we danced the night away, once again at Savini's for our Jr./Sr. Christmas Party and then returned to the McLaughlin's to cap off the night. After the completion of what seemed to be the never ending college application process, we celebrated our Senior Prom on April 28th at the Glen Ellen Country Club with the theme song "Why Can't This Night Go On Forever?" Our final court consisted of Jen Raneri as Queen, James Kane as King; Princesses — Megan Caci, Becky Gelinas, Farrah Venziano and Vicki Stevens and Princes — Jason Cook, Paul Drapeau, Ryan Creasia, and Chris Donato. This year we sent four teams to tournament, Field Hockey, Volleyball, Basketball, and for the first time in a decade, Soccer. As Keion Jackson scored his 1000th point, the basketball team became Co-Champions of the TVL.

On May 9th the Class of '95 continued the tradition of pulling off a successful Senior Bunk Day. While the majority of the class partied at Jessica Magnant's house the remaining Seniors ventured to Newport and Boston. On May 24th our class piled onto three buses to take us on the annual class trip to High Meadows in Granby, Connecticut. Although Bellingham was accompanied on their Class Trip by several other schools, we still managed to dominate every event.

Over the past few days, our Class has come together to share in the concluding activities of our Senior Year. Today is Class Day, tonight the Class Banquet and tomorrow Graduation. It has been an awesome six years together and we wish you all the best of luck!

Mr. Leo Dalpe

To the Class of 1995

To every member of the Class of 1995, I wish the very best in all you dream and all you do. Follow your dreams and never give up as you strive to be the best that you can be.

Your class was my fourth as a class advisor. Other advisors will tell you that we always remember our first class and our last class. Well, you were not my first and probably won't be my last. So where does that leave you?

As you entered the ninth grade in 1991, I was the Senior Class advisor. I was disappointed that I was not available to become your class advisor along with Mrs. D'Alfonso at that time.

Fortunately for me, Mrs. D'Alfonso graciously volunteered to take your class on her own for one year and that enabled me to come on board in your Sophomore year. For that big favor, thank you Mrs. D.

Obviously, your class was special to me from the very beginning because my son Dave was in it. I felt that I had already known many of you because I had heard Dave talk about you throughout your elementary school years.

Now I have come to know many of you personally. As individuals, you will all become "special" in your own right. As a class, you will always hold a special place in my heart and in my memories.

Best of luck to all of you!

Leo Dalpe

P.S. Thanks, Dave.

Love, Dad

Dear Class of 1995,

As I watched you enter the school as shy, timid seventh graders, you showed promise as a caring, hard-working class. When the time came to make a decision to be your advisor, I didn't have to spend a lot of time thinking about it, I knew I wanted to be with you through your high school years. The transformation you have made into confident young adults has been a joy to watch. I have felt particularly honored to have been part of this transformation as your advisor. From the first semiformal freshman year to your final walk to your diploma, these quick four years have given me much joy tempered with very little tumult — you have made it all too easy. As we part in June, I want to thank you for this wonderful adventure and wish you much joy, happiness and peace in your future years. Thanks also to Mr. Dalpe for his great organization and assistance.

Thanks again — the pleasure was all mine.

Love,
Mrs. D

F L E A M A R K E T

On October 31st, the halls of BHS were haunted by spooky seniors as we transformed from normal students into ghosts, goblins and freaks. Halloween gave us a chance to relax a little bit, and it turned out to be a fun day for seniors and envious underclassmen alike.

On Saturday, November 5th, the seniors held their third and final Flea Market at the high school. As always it was very successful, as the class reaped about $1,000 from the annual event. The event will most likely be passed on to the class of 1999 beginning next year. YOU'RE WELCOME!

Junior*Senior

It was December 21st, and still no snow on the ground. Something had to be done to lure out our Christmas spirit. So that night, a small yet spirited group of juniors and seniors got together and danced the night away at Savini's. Even the faculty and administration could not resist the excitement given off by the 95ers and 96ers, and the night was a blast. We finished it off with wishes of Happy Holidays, and then proceeded to move the party to a house on Fox Run Road.

Junior-Senior Prom

Glen Ellen Country Club

Queen: Jen Ranieri, King: James Kane, Princesses: Megan Caci, Becky Gelinas, Vicki Stevens, Farrah Veneziano, Princes: Jason Cook, Ryan Creasia, Christopher Donato, Paul Drapeau.

The Glen Ellen Country Club welcomed 95ers and 96ers on April 28, 1995, for our Jr.-Sr. prom. After a great dinner, we danced the night away, took pictures, selected our courts and had an unbelievable time! It was certainly one night that most of us will never forget.

Seniors Take Over the School!

On Monday May 22, teachers and faculty were given a break as seniors took over their classes and desks. Most seniors prepared quizzes, lectures, experiments and other surprises for their underclassmen. As lunchtime came some seniors opted for the lunchroom, while others ordered out! Those who participated were able to get a small taste of what it is like to teach in the twentieth century.

Karen McManus and Nicole St. Gelais will get sick of being 'good kids' and they go crazy when they get to Assumption. They'll party so much the 1st year that they'll end up at CCRI a year later.

Ryan Creasia will end up owning his own movie theatre in which he'll charge $20 a ticket. The walls will be made of rubber and his mom will work for him because she can't stand being away from him.

Kristy Ferrone will move to Europe, become a back up singer for Marillion and marry Steve Hogarth!

Tara Gately will move to Virginia, marry Erik, open her own Day Care and have about ten kids!

Kristen Vella will flunk out of MIT only to open the largest International male entertainment house, upon word, Dianna, Debra, Heather, Jodi and Amy will drop out of school and man their stations all over the world.

Jeff will save up all his money to take a year's vacation in France to get the world's largest breast implanted on his head!

Ben will get kicked out of the Marines for tying his Commanding Officer's shoelaces to the chair! "BEN!"

Thanks to the guidance of Heather, Debra and Dianna, Mark King will go to Vegas and study under the wings of RuPaul! WORK!

Mr. Plante will finally realize his talents are wasted on high school and become a college professor and have Jason Holmes for the next four years.

Mr. Rook will finally retire from DECA and let Mrs. Lehr take over. Then, it will become a multi-million dollar course to take.

In five years, Sal will become a driving instructor for Jenny's Auto School, but will soon lose his license when one of his students crashes through Taco Bell.

Becky Gelinas, Lisa Motroni, Caitlyn Sherrill and Sam Cowell will lead nationwide demonstrations protesting the length of the average work day because the eight hour rule has been in effect too long and it's just not fair.

Bellingham High School will adopt the Latin Club's policy of having wild parties on or before every holiday and long weekend.

Marc Laverdiere will make it to the Olympics for swimming only to slip off the diving board and break his leg.

Chris Donato will someday open up his own candy store only to go broke because he gave away his candy to all the pretty girls.

Beth Bernier will finally get together with ? and they will end up having a future together.

Kristy Ferrone and Tara Gately will own the Dr. Pepper company and the Hostess company.

Mike will marry Ginny and open a pool hall decorated with Beavis and Butthead paraphernalia, and name it after the existing Scooters.

Karen and Tara will open their own daycare and revolt against their former employees at Wee-folk and the "Y." Good Luck!

Paul Drapeau will do his Beavis impression one last time. Unfortunately, he will never snap out of it.

Karen will lose the fudge store because she will eat everything and then go on to open her own driving school.

After quitting the 1994-1995 championship basketball team, Jakob White will never be able to finish anything again and will become a destitute bum.

Justin Trudeau will one day lose his mind playing too much Magic and then try to convince everyone he is an ugly troll from Forgotten Realms.

Amy Phillips will forget her career in science and instead invent a new candy, "Lollypips!"

Heather Varney's aloe plant, rose bush and cactus that looks like Madonna will all die and, finally, she will realize that Horny Monster Dude was the only plant for her.

Jodi Bryan will tour the country giving lectures on feminine hygiene products and how to use them, but will always be late because she will lose her watches.

Bobby Christie will once again fall out of a river raft, but this time, he will pee in his pants and turn the chemically treated suit green.

Mrs. Mills will go to Spain again with Taco, Catalina and Raquel. They will all get lost on their way to a nightclub for Americans and end up at the Plaza Mayor where a man with a dog chases them into an ice cream parlor.

Jodi Bryan will venture off into the hills and replace Rip Van Winkle and sleep for one hundred years, only to be awakened by a phone call from Dave.

Heather MacLeod will end up part owner of B.K. with John Flinkelt. Unfortunately, it will come to a screeching halt due to the table dancers.

Nicole St. Gelais will lock herself in her purple room and decorate the walls with pictures of Rick and Mark.

Joe B. will marry Amy and have 5 kids. He will become rich when he invests in the Lance Snack Company.

Doreen and Michelle predict that Tina's entrepreneurship will one day leave her owning Charter Gas Station. Unfortunately, "Ran the Man" was fired a few months before for being a player and she is forced to pump her own gas.

Steve Smith will get to college and find out that no one will do his homework. He then will be forced to think on his own and his brain (if he has one) will explode from the stress!

Jack Mahoney will finally realize his ego is his only friend and they'll get married and sit around reminiscing about how great he was.

Jessica is going to finally let go, become a show girl in L.A. and go absolutely wild having too much fun!! (S.B.D.)

Kristy and Laura will end up moving in with Kristy's boyfriend, taking all of his money because they still won't have jobs or cars.

Kim and Sandra will open their own Walmart and out of pity will give Laura and Kristy jobs.

Someday Mr. Christie will install a security system for his clown, to keep it from being stolen.

Amy Wells will go to college to be a miracle bra saleswoman and Pamela Burch will be her biggest customer.

In ten years, Sandra Dill will be the proud owner or manager of a Walmart Snack Bar or a Walmart — might as well, she's there all the time!

Kristy and Jerry will be married in ten years and will still be fighting constantly. They will only have one wine glass left out of a set because the other three either broke or were thrown across the room.

Jim Goodrich will drop out of UMASS to run Hero's Call for a living. Event prices will go through the roof to support Kelly's kids and my invisible footsteps will be heard!

David Karevicious will be abducted by aliens and, after spending the whole time talking about Quentin Tarantino, they will drop him off at a Juliana Hatfield concert just to spite him!

Jeff Hill will become exactly what he never wanted to be at PC . . . NORMAL!!! In order to escape this normalcy, he will set up camp in his back yard and study the bowel movements of caterpillars.

Mrs. Trocchio will learn to organize!

Jakob White will someday perform far off Broadway his wacky renditions of Shakespeare. Thank you Mr. Cleary.

Tracy Jennings will one day return to the Career Ed room to finally retrieve her thermos. However, when she goes to open the lid, she will discover that a real life version of Kristen's tree had grown inside.

Tab will become the human tissue, covered in snots and drool for the rest of his life!!!

Captain MC Ben Jammin' will come back after three years of battling thugs in Roxbury to show Mrs. Kilburn how to rap some funky lyrics.

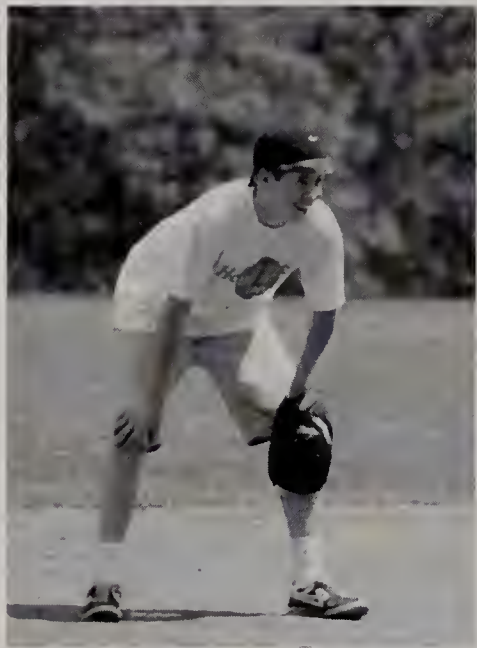

Heather will, because of the cosmetic trend started by Jeff, get herself a silicone breast on her head, and will be the founder of a "head bra" chain store, only to get brain damage when the silicone leaks.

Jodi, like Debra will be there!

One day, Matt B. will open his car door and scream when he discovers three stowaways inside. (Oops, that already happened!)

Jason Cook will become a professor in Pre-Calculus.

Jakob White will somehow end up in Las Vegas instead of in LA. After witnessing thousands of Elvis impersonators, he will become an Eddie Vedder impersonator.

CLASS TRIP

It was a Gorgeous Spring day on May 24 when the seniors invaded High Meadow in Connecticut for the annual class trip. We, the mighty Class of 1995 surpassed at the many games and Tournaments held. Aaron Trudeau ate his way to victory in the pie eating contest, Marc Laverdiere (surprise, surprise) won the swimming race, the Hawks Volleyball team defeated the other schools in the day-long tournament, Tracy McClafferty's version of "Like a Virgin" won her second place in the lip sync contest, and the Hawks softball team scored second place, despite the unbearable heat. Those that chose not to participate in the games also had a fulfilling day as there were tennis and badminton courts, a pool, horseshoes, bocce, shuffleboard, tie-dying, and not to forget, plenty of food. The thunderstorms on the way home gave us all our second wind and we screamed our lungs out for the entire ride, leaving us with a great ending to a great day.

CLASS DAY

he first day of June was the last day the students of BHS would see the 95ers together. However, Class Day was truly historic for it brought forth many firsts and lasts for the school. Class Secretary, Debra Goodman, gave a nostalgic recount of the past as she read the class history.

In turn, VP, David Dalpe, and Treasurer, Jakob White, livened up emotions with the class will and prophecy.

Final thank you's and gifts were presented to teachers and faculty for their help and dedication. The top dogs of the class received their well deserved awards, and, for the first time in the history of BHS, two outstanding Seniors were chosen, David Dalpe and Kristen Vella.

Indeed, to top off the momentous day, we even marched in step!

Senior Banquet

fter the Class Day ceremony, the seniors gathered at the Coachmen's Lodge in South Bellingham, for one last formal gathering together. We ate tons of excellent food, we danced, did the limbo, and presented gifts to the senior superlatives and class officers. We left with anxiety, for we all knew what the next day held in store.

GRADUATION

It was our time, June 2nd had arrived. As the sun set, we received our diplomas and flipped our tassels. Tears shed freely through the class song, "One Last Goodbye." After four long laboring years, we, the class of 1995, had finally graduated!!!*

hroughout the past six years, we, the Class of 1995, have prepared for this day together. Attending graduation and receiving a diploma have been our common goal, a goal we have all now achieved. Today, we share in the pride of accomplishment, the relief that we have made it, and the confidence to move on.

We not only have these emotions in common, but also, we share them with those who have helped us to be here — our families, our teachers, and the community at large.

Personally, I stand before you with mixed emotions — those of happiness and sadness. Though I celebrate with you this moment and am proud of the achievements that have led me here, I feel nostalgic in knowing that this is the last time we will be together, united as the Class of 1995. Indeed, after tonight, the laughter we expressed in the hallways will echo not quite so loudly in our thoughts. The frustration we felt in a certain class will soon spill over into a college lecture hall or a new job.

However, these years will be hard to forget because they represent a very special part of my life. I will cherish them as a time of personal gratification when I was able to put my whole being into everything I did — my school work, my sports, and my other activities. More importantly, it was a time when I grew as an individual through my relationship with you, my friends. Those bonds have made me stronger and more aware of how precious friendship can be. Now this time becomes even more special to me because it is over.

As we say good-bye tonight to the familiarity of places and people, we say hello to the new adventures that await us. The feelings of anticipation, anxiety, and excitement run through us all. Some of us might be hesitant to leave, close the door behind, and to move on. Yet, we need to do so; we need to fulfill the promises that we made to ourselves and to others. We need to believe in ourselves and go forth with the confidence that we will succeed. CONGRATULATIONS and GOOD LUCK!

SALUTATORIAN

Lee Campano

ver these past few months, I've thought a lot about today. I've looked forward to the moment when I, and all of you, would be wearing our caps and gowns and be holding a high school diploma in our hands. But now that this time has finally arrived, I'm not entirely sure that I wanted it to. Undoubtedly this is a happy occasion. It is a representation of our accomplishments over the past six years. Still some part of me feels sadness, and is afraid to move.

Tonight we will say goodbye to many of our friends, friends whom we've come to know quite well over the past several years. Though we all don't share the same groups of friends or even the same interests, I am sure that most, if not all of you, will find it difficult for the last time to walk out the doors of a school which has so much shaped our lives over the past six years, and made us into the fine group of young adults which we are today.

Next year will be a new start for most of us, and with it will come a frightening experience. For the first few weeks, or possibly even longer, no one will even know our names. Gradually, we will become accustomed to our new environment, and we will develop new friendships with different kinds of people, but for a short time, there will be no one there to help us should we need it, we must count on ourselves to get by.

Despite these feelings of anxiety, I feel that I am finally ready to leave high school and move on to the next stage of my life. Though our years of high school have come to an end, the memories which we have created will be with us for the rest of our lives. I am sure that many of you feel the same way, and I am also confident that all of you will succeed in whatever the future may hold.

One Last Goodbye

*There we stood,
Stranger to stranger,
Alone, yet for the first time, together.*

*And it seems like only yesterday
When today was so far,
But the weeks became years,
And the laughter fell to tears.*

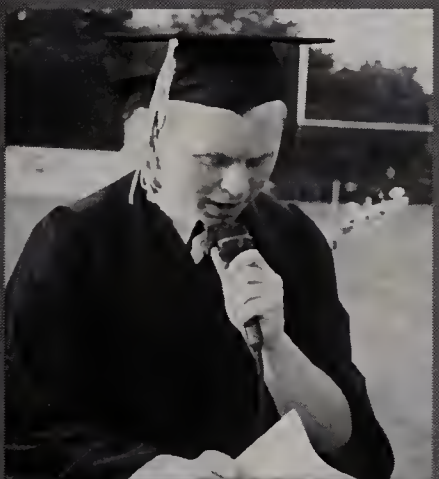

*Chorus
So let's take a look back
At just what we have done.
All the joy and all the tears,
What we've lost, what we've won.
And as we turn our heads forward
To where our futures now lie,
Let's just share this final moment,
For one last goodbye.*

*Together we've worked
And together we've played,
But the best things we've learned
Came from the friends that we've made.*

*So although there's so much
That must now fall behind us,
A lifetime lies ahead,
So just to remind us:*

Chorus

fter the caps had been tossed and the gowns returned, we, the class of '95, gathered in the high school for "A Cruise through the Night." This was Operation Graduation, the much anticipated all night graduation party. Thanks to super parents, we gambled, wrestled, ate, drank (non-alcoholic drinks only!), got tattooed, and so much more. We watched with laughter a video of our pasts, called "The Way We Were," and at three A.M. were hypnotized in the auditorium. At 6 A.M., after nearly 2 hours of dancing, we did what was probably the most difficult thing in our lives. We hugged, said goodbye, and walked through the doors of BHS, for the very last time. We'll miss you BHS!!! But we'll never forget you!!!

From all the senior hunkers: thanks a lot Jessica Magnant for lending all of your house.

Jenn leaves Lisa Wertheim another fun filled year without her, however, with Mr. Henderson's critter and flicks. Have a great senior year!; Emily a whole line of Frederick's of Hollywood lingerie for entertaining the girls!; the S-D girls all the thanks in the world for making senior year so much fun; Larry a bigger house to throw more parties for all the seniors!

Joe and Jay leave Tommy Burkholder some wheels.

The HAT CLUB leaves Mr. Canestrari a baseball hat.

What do I say of a friend of 17 years? June, I leave you tons of happiness, love and most of all, our friendship which has meant so much to me. There were times I would have been lost without you. Thanks so much for all the times in NH. Don't forget Melissa's club house, the mixtures, house, doctor, the dances and importantly me. — Caitlyn

Doug, though you left last year, your spirit never did. You were at all the football games, in the weightroom, and with me when I walked down the halls of BHS. Now it is my year to leave, and although we're going to separate schools, may all of our love, hopes and dreams be with you when I cannot.

Caitlyn leaves Steven a 9th grade crush that led to a night in a tree waving to his house, football games and wrestling matches in Josh's backyard, and a single papa hair — which you'll soon know the story to; Jenn L. Per. 2 study talks, a night at Framingham State, "oh a green one," and lots of luck; Lisa M. with conversations in Mr. Cohn's science class with Jake and Russ, hershey kisses in the limo, a wallet trick which made Mark cry, and a super strength stick guaranteed to take on anything so she can play with the big girls next year. Go get 'em!; Dawn Simpson 63 airplane tickets to California, an incredible trip to Cancun, all the wild times they've had, and an incredible best friend; 2nd period student laughter, tears, and all those steamy and controversial conversations; Jessica M. an all night drive to Lowell, two great parties, a picture of her, and a mystery map.

Beth leaves Deb an oreo, a toaster that works, the bridge, and a friend forever; Jill a #3, something green for her bathroom, another penny, and a hug for always being there; Sal Taco Bell, someone to pull his leg hair, a big piece of cake, and a promise that we will keep in touch.

Jenn leaves Emily a horro bird, a lactate problem, gas to visit her at Bridgewater, a dime for every Franklin visit, a talk with her mom + friends are friends forever.

Jenn and Emily leave Lori and Jessica good luck next year with cheerleading.

en leaves her senior lunch table a final food fight, windburns, hairy back and a happy Birthday sing-a-long; Tanika a high five for scamming out on 1st + 2nd period studies and going to McD's every Friday. See you at Bridgewater!; Farrah very Look Who's Talking video, what's a lightbulb, where's my tractor, a car accident, two garage doors, a fire hydrant, 2 Aerosmith concerts, and good luck next year; her sister, Melissa, good luck in field hockey, lots of luck next year you had freshman and all her love; Brian Cronin her 230 roses, a disinfectant for the blazer, the prom (what a couple we made), and many memories to cherish forever; Emily a shoulder to cry on, a friendship that will last forever, unforgettable memories, all her love, and a thanks for always being there.

N.S. leaves T.R. another year with E.B.!; Kendra H. a swing partner for the next three years.

anya leaves Kendra another friend who has the same interests and lots of luck, living it!

N.S. leaves Kevin Petrasek a girl to drool over him.

Dave leaves Brian, Larry, Woody and Damien a senior year that's easy as you know who!

Dalpe leaves Cronin a huge thanks for being the best bud to hang with, talk with, sit with, and drink with for the 3 great years.

DMD leaves MBKT a whole lotta memories, a lot of ups and downs, and a relationship he'll never forget.

Rebel #2 leaves Rebel #1 and Rebel #3 Aerosmith, Wallum Lake, Franklin, Rich Louza. What's a lightbulb, a lot of great memories, and directions to come see me at school.

C.T. leaves H.M. someone to explore with, a lifetime with John and a friendship that will never die!; C.M. a full moon, a video camera, a burnt muffin, a fire extinguisher and best of luck. I'll miss ya!

C.T. and Steph leave C.H. and Chuck a lifetime supply of Robitussin, all their love, and a Happy Birthday for every month next year.

C.T. leaves Jess, Chrissy, and Amy a ride to the Natick Mall with someone who will remember to shut their lights off; Mr. Clinton a lifetime supply of candy, someone to pick on; Mrs. Bibeault someone to do all her errands, a year of good health for her kids, and another friendly pat from MATT; J.M. a lifetime supply of brownies, a pool table, and a friend that will be here forever. Good luck; J.C. someone who will be everything he's ever wanted, the grades to make it out here, and the best of luck; T.R. another year at BHS, all the wonderful things that are included, and a lifetime supply with Little Boy Blue!; N.S. the purple store in Boston so that she can have everything in it and a lifetime with the king.

Michelle leaves Vicky a night of at the Plaza, and a few bad, blind dates.

Doreen leaves Michele a 5.0 Mustang, a roadmap to B.M.'s house, and a lifetime supply of C batteries in case B.M. doesn't pull through and because L.M. never loses.

Doreen and Danielle leave Nicole an M.K. for every season and every reason.

Doreen leaves Pete one more year, cows, and a lifetime supply of shamrocks, with any fortune you'll get lucky.

Jeff leaves Jamie the pen he stole from her about a year ago (with lots of regret), and a long, grueling match of tennis; Jodi a slightly less injured "froggy," a stick figure portrait of herself, a "je ne sais pas," a million-dollar gift certificate to Newbury Comics, and a congratulations on finally finding herself free to breathe in that big bad world of Amherst.

Jeff hereby owes Mr. Christie the sum of $1540.63 per order of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, broken up as follows:

- $232.19 for breaking the "Van de Graff" machine after misuse.
- $990.00 for damage to his recently-seeded lawn.
- $3.24 for miscellaneous psychological damages.
- $165.20 for setting that pegboard on fire and singing what was left of his hair.
- $14.98 for smashing several containers and his best beakers "accidentally."
- $135.00 as a reassurance that the above acts will not be revenged.
- $0.02 in contribution to the future "Physics Warriors" Scholarship Fund.

Jeff leaves Mrs. Trocchio job security (I mean, who in their right mind would commute to Bellingham every day?), a mega-organizer, an offer to chaperone yet another trip to France, and pride that she's made me into a better person after six years of constant therapy; Jake a hearty bowl of "whities," a bass guitar (strings included), every single Medicine song that exists, and a tape recorder so he can listen to himself on those lonely nights in at Emerson, while constantly repeating to himself "love ... stop it ..."; his darling sister Jennifer three glorious, wonderful years at Bellingham High School, where the motto is "Learning is a very, very, very long process." Hay, et werkt fo mee!; Amy a human-size stress relief doll, and the long-forgotten epigram "Amy the Great."

Jeff and Jake leave Betty, Alyson, Sharon, Marc and Rob a brawl over Editor-in-Chief of the paper next year.

Jeff leaves Dave an "Everyone be cool, this is a robbery," and a "Hear me talking billyboy!"; Mr. Henderson a Great White Shark so he can perform live demonstrations about how easily they can detect and devour oblivious swimmers;

Heather a game of luno, a few more years of abusing what's left of my hair into funny styles, and lots of adventures at P.C. next year.

Kristen leaves the Schafer Nursery gang more hours, Dairy Queen, bowling, parties, a cool summer, and an excellent senior year. Good luck w/ college applications!

Jenn leaves all the Red Sox fans from bunk day season tickets for the rest of their lives to keep the memories alive. Thanx guys: thanks Dave Dalpe for a great friendship and for all of the memories.

Melissa leaves Janae an endless supply of gas, Jim's number, ESP, so she can always know who he's with, mudslides, a b-b-sitter, and a big hug for being a great friend; Jill, Nikki, and Kristy an endless supply of the big Wintergreen Lifesavers so they can stop taking hers; Danielle more beach trips with you know who, a new hat, a car, a perfect prom dress for next year, and a big hug!; Andrew and Derek all her chores while she's in college, the last word, a ha! ha! Told you so!, and a thanks for being the best little hros! I luv ya!; Beth B. more gossip sessions in the gym and Career Ed., another fight in Child Growth, and a thanx for being a friend; Tara G. another sleepover with Sherri, an endless supply of Cheezits; Kim, Sandra and Laura a ride to Tara's party (fashionably late). Sandra — a hit on the head with her shoe, Laura — her own seat, Kim — another credit card and hugs all around; Vicky more parties, all the bad pictures of her, a dartboard with Norfolk men on it, apple-pie, and a hug!; Shaun an instruction book so he always knows what Jamie wants!; Jenn, Farrah and Jake a thanx for making 11th grade homeroom not so boring.

Jamie leaves Karen some high quality merchandise, a right mirror, calls on the radio, dismissing her, and one more try double dating; Jeff H. her spoons for the tighty whittie song, a high five, and a big hug; Lisa memories of Search, delaying projects, and long walks during study; Jeff M. lots of knowledge about algebra diagrams, cars, and memories of fire drills.

Kristen leaves Dianna a swingin' chic, kitty (Lance), a cool personality, and good luck at NU. Oh, wait! I'll see you there!

Kissten leaves Matichoo all of her friendship, an election, a return to France and Spain, a trip to MIT, a sleepover party (floor included), bowling, a little sister, and her love. We'll always have Paris!

Kristen leaves Carissa a kiss! JUST KIDDING! I'm sorry.

Heather leaves Jen Cushman the legacy of the Lance B#*ch!

Kristen leaves Mr. Christie a big thank you for everything — physics, future problem solvers and for being the best teacher. I think I found my niche!; Mrs. Trocchio a big thank you for always helping her with any problem she had and for being a great friend; Mrs. Flanagan a thank you for all the advice; Mr. Fluery, Mrs. Boyan and Mr. Gauvin a thank you for all of the support and/or laughs.

Kristen wishes the Class of '95 much success in the future. Thank you for the memories of our days together!

Cabin Five leaves Jodi tampons!

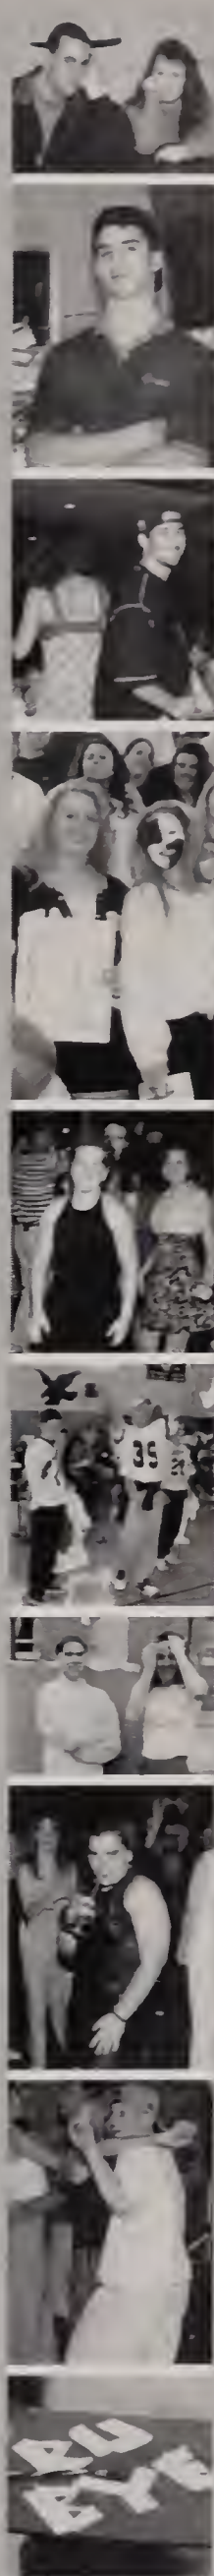

Kristen leaves Jeff Hill a wish for good luck in the future, a new volleyball move, a memory of Discovery, neat conversations in German, a trip to Boston with Mr. Christie, and lots of food! I'll miss you: the men in Calculus all the perverted jokes and discussions they had when Mr. Fox was out, I had lots of fun, but ohh the sexual harassment cases I could have won!; Yanira the Hershey hugs and kisses from her locker! Thank you!

Amy leaves Peter Trudeau artistic freedom with Mrs. Flanagan's board, a fourth grade act at lunch, and a wish for good luck in the future!; Jeff — a secret mission for a bagel, Jake — a chat about Bill, and Tracy — a stapler in the closet.

This year's yearbook staff editors, excluding Matt, leave Mrs. Flanagan memories of the Best Damn Yearbook Staff Ever!!! G-yeah, we love g-ya!!!

EPILOGUE

... And there it went. Nine short months together as seniors and we were gone. The changes continued to take place even this year. First, in our world:

— The American people elected a Republican Congress for the first time in fifty years.

— A bomb in Oklahoma City killed over 100 innocent people, leaving a sympathetic nation in tears.

And in our school:

— BHSers were struck hard by the sudden loss of a great vice principal.

— The seniors managed to avoid the upcoming revisions to the amount of time spent in school, leaving several long hard years to the underclassmen.

Our time together came to an end that seemed all too swift. Although we'll no longer grow and change together, we'll now face the biggest changes in our lives thus far. No matter how much things change, though, no matter how good or bad the world around us becomes, there is one thing that is etched in stone: The memory of our time together at Bellingham High School, as the class of 1995. We'll share these memories every time we open the bindings that preserve them. What you've just read encompasses our history, our successes, our failures, our rewards and our friendships. It represents the one year of our lives that we stood on top of the world, together. This is our Epilogue.
